

I, Internet: We are more Borg than we thought

Christiane Rütten | cr@23bit.net | twitter.com/p4ula | #iinternet

On science

„And just because there is a very different degree of certainty where we can prove or at least convincingly affirm like in the Hard Sciences, this certainty comes at the price of being unable to talk about those things that cannot be proven or computed, that belong into the sphere of society, culture, and contingency.“

Dr. Martin Warnke, kultur.informatik, 2004

Informational systems

- Synthesis
- Mimesis
- Contingency
- Autopoiesis
- Emergence

- Self-similarity

Emergence

„Therefore, emergence is not just accumulation of complexity, but a break and fresh start in complexity.“

Luhmann, 1994

The Illusion of the Individual

- I think, therefore I am (Borg)
- Questionable boundaries
- Artificial limbs
- Augmented reality
- I/O
- Implants
- Explants

Sometimes I can't tell where I end,
and the machine begins.

Borg everywhere

Political parties and governments

- Slow on adapting modern communication
- Very few, but „educated“ constituents
- Output: laws, statements

Corporations

- Hierarchical structure
- Static graph
- Little node flux
- Fast internal communication
- Few people contribute to information
- Highly-filtered output

The Media

- Input: more complex systems
 - Increasingly New Media
- Reduce information complexity
- Output to less complex systems

The New Media

- Blogs
- Forums
- Portals
- Internet-based
 - Efficient information distribution
 - Low latency
- Open for contribution

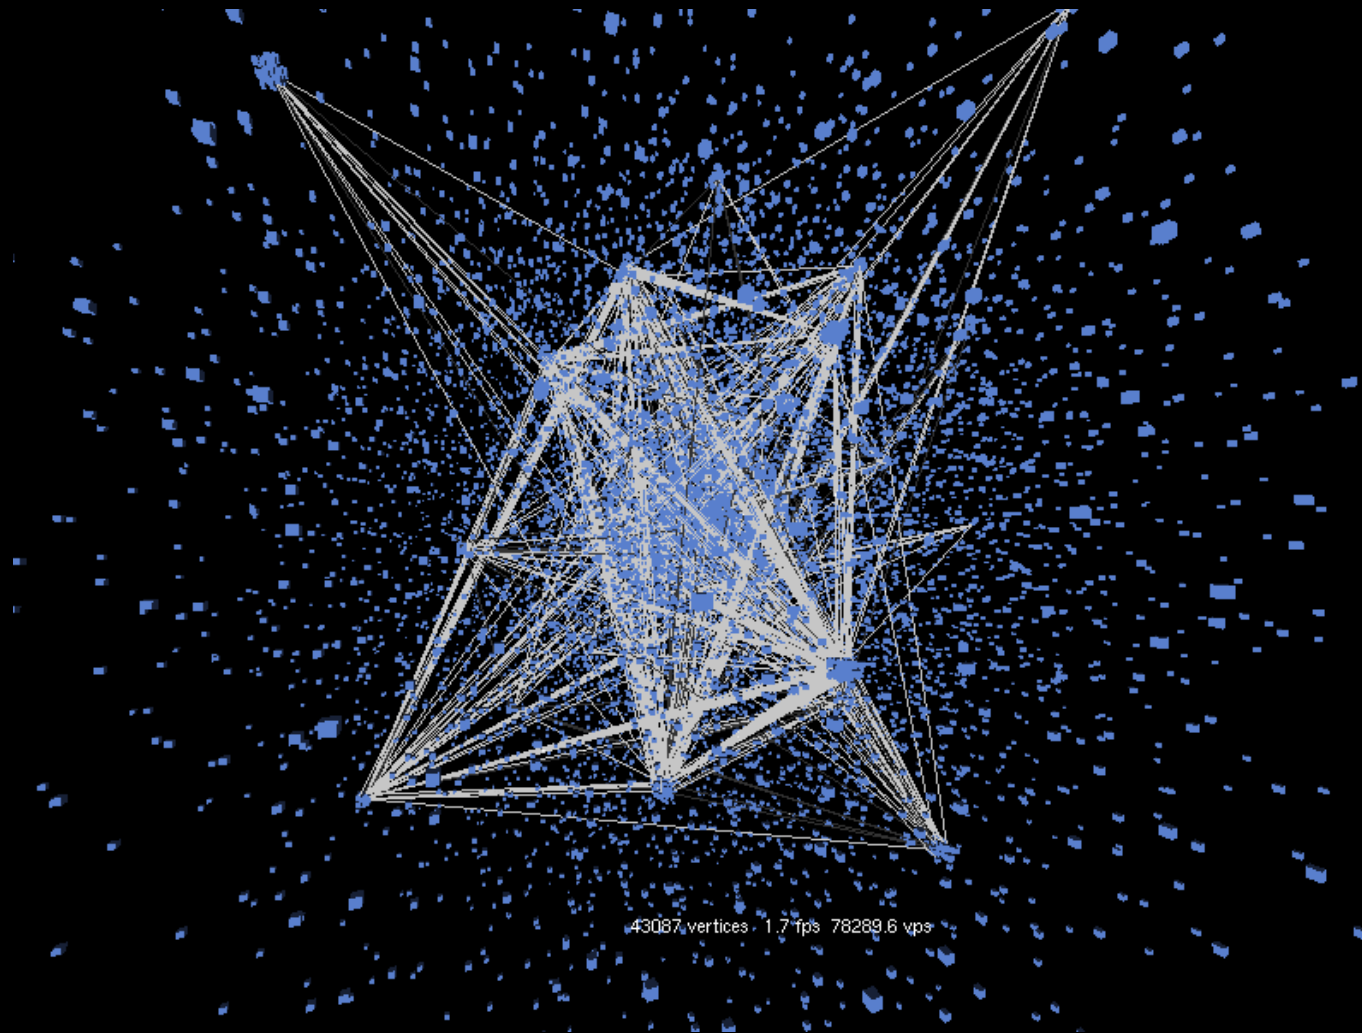

4chan

- The Anonymous /b/-ing
- Topic-centric network
- Short memory
- Mostly for teh lulz

Twitter

- 126 followers on average
- ~2 million tweets per day
- Peaks: 300 tweets per second
- ID-centric network
- Topical/relational clustering

- „Man years have been wasted.“

Borg in grievance

Borg tantrum

- ... mostly while processing input of political nature.

Borg in fear

- Self-preservation
- Losing/gainig control over competitors
- Censorship debate
- Strong attitude towards information freedom

Being Borg feels like...

- 100 eyes
- 100 ears
- 100 memories
- 100 ideas
- 100 life experiences
- 100 emotions
- 100 opinions
- 100 hands
- 100 voices

The power of collective consciousness

- Collective intelligence
- "No more heinleinian polyomaths, instead a web of geeks, all of whom knows a lot about something."
(Neal Stephenson)
- Technology symbiosis
- We are many.

Thanks!

Resistance is futile.
